A LAND SWINDLE.

Sioux Half-Breed Script Alleged to Have Been Stolen Affects the Title to Lands Near Reno.

The Carson News says papers have been filed with the Clerk of the U. S. Court which will cause considerable anxiety to parties on land in the vicinity of Reno.

These papers are signed by Attorney-General Judson Harmon and U. S. Attorney C. A. Jones, and allege as follows:

Charles Musso, a Sioux half-breed Indian, resided on the reservation in Minnesota on July 17, 1834, when the Act of Congress of that date was passed. By this Act every Sioux half-breed was entitled to 480 acres of any Government lands that were unsurveyed or subject to pre-emption.

Five pieces of script, viz, 301 A-B-C-D-E were issued for said Chas. Musso, which, it is alleged, he never received.

The script was taken possession of by the Special Commissioner of the United States, appointed by the same Act of Congress. He forwarded it to the Superintendent of Indian Affairs in Minnesota, who advertised for the owner, Charles Musso.

The script was soon claimed by W. S. Chapman of Nevada, who presented a paper claiming to be an attorney in fact for said Charles Musso, which was signed in Hennepin, Minnesota, July 9, 1863. As such attorney in fact he executed or pretended relinquishment and received the script.

The paper was, it is alleged, nothing more or less than a forgery. Chapman applied for a patent on the land, which is near Reno, and received it on September 15, 1864.

In the meantime Charles Musso turned up, and upon being made acquainted with his rights applied for his script in April, 1892, and in this way the fraud was discovered.

The establishment of the allegation, it is expected, will make the patent void, and the title of those now enjoying the benefit will be worthless, and it will become the property of the half-breed Indian.

Those now residing on the land and who will be the defendants in the five actions are as follows:

A. T. Rice.

Sierra Nevada Wood and Lumber Company, a corporation.

John Boynton, M. J. Kiely, George Alt.

M. J. Kiely, Robert Steele, Mrs. M. L. White.

James M. Higgins, Martha J. Kiely, Sarah C. Higgins, Mary H. Higgins, Emma C. Higgins, Bessie A. Higgins, Francis E. Adams, D. R. M. Steele, Sophia S. Benley, Alexander Steele, Mary E. Wilson, John Boynton.

Chapman was well known in Carson, where he resided in the early days.

STATE CAPITAL NOTES.

The Mode of Procedure in the Jones Case—An Important Problem—Will it be a "Set-up Jury"—New Evidence and Surprises Promised—The Respective Attorneys.

(Correspondence of the JOURNAL.)

Much interest is manifested by those studying and discussing the subject as to what will be the line of procedure on the part of the prosecution in the Jones case to be commenced on Monday. Will the larceny charged against Jones be traced and proven through the books of the mint, or through connection with Heney? Was he an actual partner with Heney, or did he skillfully manipulate and falsify some of the books and records so as to cover up mutual or separate rascality? In the Heney trials all the books were found to be correct, except the consolidation melts book in the Melter's and Refiner's department from which several important leaves had been removed by somebody interested.

Mr. Mason testified that the shortage of over $75,000 was, according to his own investigations and opinion, effected through consolidation and spurious melts passed through each annual settlement, and these leaves removed from the book prevented the tracing of the individual melts.

But new evidence and surprises are promised. It is a sure thing that the mint sewer assays and pasture and potato patch enrichments therefrom will cut no figure in this case. In fact very little of the main circumstances of the Heney cases are adaptable to this. It is argued by some that about one-third of the venire of trial jurors drawn and summoned being from Carson and vicinity is a circumstance in favor of Jones, but little or nothing can be shown in that.

General Clarke and U. S. District Attorney Jones will conduct the prosecution, and Woodburn, Coffin, Dennis and Torreyson & Summerfield will appear for the defense, with Woodburn in the managerial lead. Much more careful study and preparation by counsel is manifested in the preparations for this mint case than those which have preceded it. And a deeper interest is taken by the general public, as but a small portion of the full shortage has been thus far practically accounted for the whole will be figured out and shown this time.

A postoffice, bearing the name of our Representative in Congress, has been established in Lincoln county with Henry Rice as Postmaster.

The Genoa Courier says Richard Kirman is not going to build a quartz mill at Pine Nut, and has never contemplated doing so, as has been reported.

Since a Republican Congress made such a pronounced attack on silver the Appeal says many old line Republicans in Carson have openly declared their intentions of joining the silver party.

The Virginia City Miner's Union elected J. F. Donell, Lawrence Pingali, Joseph B. Kenney and Ivy Fulton delegates to the Western Federation of Labor which meets at Denver, May 11th next.

The San Francisco Post says the thieves of the Carson Mint carried away the bullion, but they couldn't move the buildings. This added evidence of their stability has induced Congress to announce that what is left of the concern will not be abolished this year.

Enoch Strother, Republican National Committee, in reply to a dispatch from New York asking if he wants Chairman Carter deposed, says Nevada sustains Carter's views on silver. So at last Nevada Republicans evince a disposition to cut loose from the gold element of the party.

The Silver State of last Friday says it has been many a month since Winnemucca has experienced such a windstorm as the one of last night. It was terrific, lifting and throwing debris in all directions. One or two old fences were blown down, and for five hours the fierce gale held sway, roaring as it went onward.

Echo cave, three miles from Nez Perce, Idaho, is said to be one of the wonders of this recently opened empire. It is 300 feet long, 100 feet deep and 90 feet high, and carved as with a chisel from the solid rock. Opposite this is the astonishing phenomena of the double echo cave, where whole sentences are duplicated with the most marvelous accuracy.

The Genoa Courier says their Indian reporter says James Torreyson and Abe Cobb of Carson have located the gold ledge discovered by the Indians, about which there was so much excitement last week. The reporter says: "If it's pretty good Abe and Jim will give the Indians $5,000; pretty good—$100,000." The Indians have some how gained the impression that if the ledge does not "pinch out" the U. S. Government will erect a quartz mill and employ the graduates of the Indian school to run it.

"King Cotton."

Sousa's newest success in the march realm is "King Cotton," composed in honor of the Atlanta Exposition, where the band has just concluded a triumphal engagement. "King Cotton" is dedicated to the New South and is one of Sousa's most characteristic compositions. It contains that magnetism and virility found in no martial music as it exists in Sousa's. It is the moving life of Sousa's marches that makes them famous. Where is there such march music that Sousa writes and his band plays? His superb band is the peerless organization of its class, and that class is the highest known to the world of organized instrumental bodies. Look out for Sousa, he is coming.

Grand Jury Report

RENO, February 29, 1896.

To the Hon. A. E. Cheney, Judge of the District Court of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.—Your Grand Jury beg leave to make this additional and final report to those already submitted:

We recommend the contract for feeding the prisoners be let to the lowest bidder.

We have been informed the County Commissioners have been in the habit of loaning for private use tools belonging to the county. We recommend this practice be discontinued.

We have examined very thoroughly into the alleged embezzlement case wherein Mr. T. K. Hymers, as Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, sold to Mr. F. Vallincourt a piece of land near said Vallincourt's house in Powning's Addition, receiving therefor seventy-five (75) dollars and giving a receipt for the amount signed as Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners and keeping the money in his possession for several years.

We have examined several witnesses and find that Mr. Hymers, acting for the Board of County Commissioners and with the advice of the then District Attorney, T. V. Julien, did agree to sell said piece of land to said Vallincourt for one hundred and twenty-five (125) dollars.

That said Vallincourt paid Hymers seventy-five (75) dollars on account of said land, taking Hymers' receipt therefor, which receipt also stated that Vallincourt should have a deed for said land from Washoe county when the balance of the agreed price, fifty (50) dollars, was paid. That Vallincourt never completed his part of the contract by paying the remaining fifty (50) dollars, and that Hymers retained in his possession the seventy-five (75) dollars for about four (4) years and then paid the amount back to Vallincourt. This entire transaction was illegal and contrary to law and Mr. Hymers deserves to be censured for presuming to do the county business in this manner, but acting with the advice of the District Attorney and with a knowledge of the other members of the Board removes the suspicion that there was any criminal intention. Had there been cause for action the same would now be barred by the statute of limitation.

We have investigated the matter of the moving of the pest house. We find the house in good condition. That the price paid for moving it and putting it in repair and such good condition was reasonable and much cheaper than a new building of similar character could be erected.

We commend the action of the Auditor in vetoing the bill of T. K. Hymers for eight dollars for money paid prisoners in repairing the jail, and recommend that he allow no bill not properly itemized and otherwise in regular form.

We have examined the County Hospital and find that the food furnished the inmates is not what it should be. That the building should be properly sewered and stairs constructed from the upper floor to be used in case of fire as a means of escape. We have consulted the Commissioners and recommended that the condition prevailing there be improved, which they have agreed to do.

We recommend that all prisoners coming within the law should be worked on the streets and sewers and none who are able to work be retained in the jail during working hours or while others are at work.

The case of the State vs. Lee Brooks was reconsidered and a new indictment found.

G. R. HOLCOMB, Foreman.

T. W. BOALT, Secretary.

Man's Best Friend.
"Hev a dog, miss?" says Bob Jakia wisely. "They're better friends nor any Christian. Lor, it's a fine thing to hev a dumb brute fond on you; it'll stick to you, and make no jaw." George Elliot, wise as shewas, never wrote anything wiser, and her wisdom is still in fashion, even in these fin de siecle days.
What does Jerome say? And the chronicler of Montmorency may be supposed to know of what he was talking: "They are much superior to human beings as companions. They do not quarrel or argue with you. They never talk about themselves, but listen to you while you talk about yourself, and keep up an appearance of being interested in the conversation. They never make stupid remarks. They never observe to Miss Brown across a dinner table that they always understood who was very sweet as Mr. Jones (who has just married Miss Robinson). They never mistake your wife's cousin for her husband, and fancy that you are the father-in-law.
And they never ask a young author with 14 tragedies, 10 comedies, 7 farces and a couple of burlesques in his desk why he doesn't write a play. They never say behind things. They never tell us of our faults, merely for our own good." They do not, at inconvenient moments, suddenly remind us of our past failings and mistakes." — Gentleman's Magazine.

Fun For Bank Clerks.
A London merchant has a portrait of himself engraved on his checks so that when he pays a bill his creditor has the satisfaction of seeing upon the counterfeit presentation of the payer. These checks go to different towns and pass through various banks and clearing houses.

When the gentleman who thus ad-orns himself has his deposit book settled at the end of the month and gets back his canceled checks, it is a question whether he is pleased or vexed.

The portrait on each and every check is ornamented in a manner that is, to say the least, startling, and the more banks the check has passed the greater the change.

The first clerk through whose hands
the paper passes will adorn the picture with a fierce mustache, the next will add a beard, the next a pair of goggles, and the next may change the aquiline nose to a rousillon.

All the changes capable of being made are rung, and by the time the check gets back the self advertiser doesn't recognize his own photograph.—London Tit-bits.

His First Trousers.
There is an old and true saying to the effect that a little boy's first pair of trousers always fit if the pockets are large enough. This is a similar impression, do not exaggerate the degree of here entertained by youth for its first trousers was well evidenced by the remark of a Franklinville youngster who had recently attained to the dignity of "real pants." After exhibiting them to a large circle of curious acquaintances and friends he returned to his fond mamma with the question,
"Say, ma, do angels wear 'em?" He was gently assured that tradition and Biblical history bore out no such wild supposition. "Oh, well," Freddie replied, brightening up after a resulting fit of abstraction. "I guess we don't all have to go to heaven, do we?"—Philadelphia Call.

Before and After.
He (before marriage)—Some of your angel cake, darling? His "angel cake," it supposes, by the way, an angel made it,
isn't it, honey?
He (after marriage)—Umph! Angel cake! You say that, I suppose, because it's so good, but to make a lot of people into angels, they were fools enough to go to heaven, weren't they?

Matters According to the Pentateuch.
There is no mention of mules in the Pentateuch. Such breeding was contrary to the law, but the Assyrian sculptures, in later times, give figures of mules, and they are noticed in later books of the Bible (Ezekiel xxvii, 14; Zechariah xiv, 15). Now are domestic fowls noticed, though known in Palestine in the time of Christ and represented on cylinders of the Persian period. There is no mention of the citron, which is native to Italy, but which was only known in the Persian period in Palestine. Cotton (Ezther i, 6) and silk (Ezekiel xvi, 10) are alike mentioned in the Torah, but occur in later books, while flax, one of the most ancient materials in Asia and in Europe, is so noticed. The cochineal insect ("crimson," Isaiah i, 18) may early have supplied a dye, for it is found on the leaves of the Syrian oak, and the purple dye from the galbanum or operculum of the shellfish used at Tyre may date back to any age, since it is found all along the Palestine coast, as are the yellow ocreas or snuffon and the orange colored henna and kohl for blackening the eyes.

The Hebrews do not appear to have used horses before the time of Solomon, but the Canaanites had horses and chariots, which are noticed monumentally between 1700 and 1400 B. C., as well as later. The Egyptians also had chariots long before the Exodus. Trading caravans, such as led Joseph to Egypt, are noticed in the fifteenth century B. C., in Palestine, and ships on the Syrian coast as early as 1800 B. C.—Scrib-bish Review.

Self Doctoring Promoted by the Use of Medicines in Compressed Tablets.

Not only has the general introduction of medicine in the form of compressed tablets simplified the work of the doctor, but it has also vastly promoted self doctoring. The number of remedies put up in this form for popular use constantly increases. Many druggists make a specialty of these things. You see them displayed near the soda water fountain, put up in small bottles and sold at prices that must yield a handsome profit. Half a dozen remedies for indigestion are thus sold, some containing pepsin as the active principle, others containing soda mint, some bismuth, some charcoal or more powerful disinfectants. Some are designed to remove acidity of the stomach; others to attack a catarrhal condition. Others are to promote appetite, and still others are to promote one or another natural function. A dozen headache cures are sold in this fashion, and the different emollients for the throat are almost innumerable. There are grip tablets, liver tablets, heart, lung and brain tablets. Persons who have eschewed patent medicines all their lives buy these tablets of one sort or another, because most of them are supposed to be well recognized remedies. Most of the tablets are advertised only in medical journals, in accordance with the requirements of the medical code, and many of them, no doubt, have obtained their popularity through their use by reputable physicians.

Quinine, which is now extremely cheap, is sold largely in the form of two grain pills or in larger pills containing iron. Although believed by many physicians to be a dangerous remedy, it has long been self prescribed by all sorts of persons, especially in malarial regions, and it is one of the remedies most frequently bought without prescription. It is self prescribed for malaria in its many forms, to check a cold in its early stages, and as a tonic. Stimulants of one sort or another are sold in this form, but more especially perhaps at the soda fountain, which has become a sort of medical dispensary. Many headache remedies are dispensed at the soda fountain. Some are recommended or suggested by the attendant, but many persons have their favorites among the various sedatives and febrifuges, and some are called for as regularly as the fruit syrups. New remedies are constantly introduced through the soda fountains, and many old ones have long been included in the annually lengthening list of the soda water dispensers.—New York Sun.

Professor Baird states that one of the pikers which can be seen at the Imperial aquarium, St. Petersburg, was born toward the end of the fifteenth century, and is now, therefore, about 400 years old.

Several species of sea anemone can form their jellylike bodies into boats, and float on the surface of the water, propelling themselves with their tentacles.

Pat Shinnegan works "on" the Allen place, and his mind is no poetic mind, and whatever comes into it receives a literal construction that sometimes makes it unrecognizable when it comes out again. In fact, Pat's mind is a very sausage machine of a mind.

Now, it happens that Pat was feeling ill for some days, and so, as his employer is an M. D., full fledged, albeit somewhat young in years, Pat applied to him for a remedy. The doctor asked the symptoms, felt his pulse, examined his tongue, and did whatever else professional etiquette demanded. Then he said:

"Patrick, you're run down a bit, that's all. What you need is animal food."

And Pat departed quite contented. About two days afterward the doctor happened to think of his case, and called on Pat in the stable.

"Well, Pat," said he, "how are we getting on with the treatment?"
"Oh, shure, sir," said Pat, "O' maneage all right with the grain and oats, but it's hard with the chopped hay!"
—Boston Budget.

The Scored Journalism.

A successful physician, who began life as a reporter, spoke very scornfully of the newspaper man who had not sense enough to discover that the talents needed to earn him a bare living in "journalism" would bring him substantial rewards in any other business or profession. I suppose it must have been some such man that was at the root of Horace Greeley's fixed objection to paying any salary of more than $25 a week, though his opinion that if an employer of a newspaper could earn more than that he ought to strike out for himself. Considering the number of second and third rate newspaper men who have made first class reputations in politics, have adorned presidential cabinets and made their mark generally in the public life of the country, there does seem to be something wrong with the old hands at the bellows who can find nothing better to do.—Forum.

Many a boy starts out in life with the firm determination of conquering the world. He means to achieve success and wealth and fame. His intentions are good, and his will is strong. If he has the bodily strength to carry him through, his efforts will be crowned with achievement. Bodily strength and health are his greatest capital. Without them he can hope for nothing. How many young men and young women are cut off just when the future seems brightest and fullest of promise! They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. Consumption has been considered incurable, and the medical profession has never made a greater mistake than this. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections. There is no reason why the child of consumption should need ever have consumption if its blood and lungs are strengthened by the proper use of the "Discovery." All who have any reason to fear consumption, should read the chapters on that disease in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great medical work of 1000 pages, profusely illustrated, has reached a sale of over 650,000 copies. It will be sent free of charge on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
